Mr. Moran:

Have you ever heard the term "April Fool?" Are you familiar with April 1st being called April Fool's Day? Chances are, yes, but what you may not have known was that this is a tradition started in France hundreds of years ago. In the USA, people typically play a joke on someone, but the French try to make unsuspecting friends look silly by sticking a colorful fish on their backs or among their things. Mr. Moran's 7th grade French classes, along with some of your teachers, will be celebrating this silly tradition on Friday, March 31, so be on the lookout for a surprising fish to pop up during your day! If you get a fish, feel free to re-use it on another unsuspecting friend or teacher during the day! Have fun but remember to be responsible and respectful!
